From the PRESIDENT

We had a great meeting at the MWNA Convention on July 10th. The Members who were present, heard our Treasurer, Pete Burris give an excellent talk about some of his amusement tokens. Pete also gave two tokens to all who attended.

In the last issue of the JOURNAL, I overlooked an important item, our two new life members. Patrick Hogan, of Iowa City, Iowa became Life Member #5 and Greg D. Ruby, of Hampstead, Md. became Life Member #6. Congratulations to both of these members.

At the July meeting, I stated that I had worked on our Logo for a lapel pin. Since that meeting, I have ordered 125 lapel pins to be made, and they should be delivered soon. Information concerning price and how to order will be published as soon as I get the complete information. (Colors will be red, yellow, white and black).

Also, at the July meeting, it was decided that MD. TAMS would sponser a "Best Exonumia Award: at the M. S. N. A. Convention in September. During the two or three weeks that followed the meeting, I contacted all the members of the Executive Committee, and we decided to make this an continuous award for future M. S. N. A. Conventions. The Committee also decided to give this award a name. The name that was choosen by unamimous vote was; "THE MILLARD W. HAJEK BEST EXONUMIA AWARD", in honor of our founder and first President. Millard, from all of us, CONGRATULATIONS ! !

Our next meeting will be held at the Sheraton Exhibition Center, New Carrollton, Md. in conjuction with the M. A. N. A. Convention. This meeting will be held on Saturday, October 22nd at 2:00 P.M. That evening, as part of the educational forum, Mr. Russ Rulau, a noted author in the token field will be one of the speakers. I hope that any member who has the opportunity to attend this forum will do so. I intend to write Mr. Rulau and invite him to be a guest at our October meeting, so plan to attend.

Once again, I'll see you at the meeting, and don't forget to bring a friend. Friends and guest make future members.

Bob

Bob

From The Editor

Although attendance was low at our July meeting, it was good to get together again. The auction contained some interesting items including directories. Our auction is especially important since it helps generate income for the society. Donations for the auction as well as consignment items are welcome. For those who are not aware, almost all of the money paid by dues covers the cost of the journal.

When you see the new Rulau book on tokens from 1866-1889, don't get too excited about the pricing of Maryland pieces or by the fact that so many tokens, especially of Baltimore, have not been listed. It appears that insufficient consultation with Dave Schenkman took place before the book was published. Hopefully future printings will be revised to include most of the many missing pieces.

We would like to thank those who have sent contributions to the Journal. If we are to keep the Journal interesting, your help is needed.

To put the Md TAMS Journal on an annual basis, we are extending Volume 4 to issues 5 and 6. Volume 5 will begin as of the first issue of 1984.

The index for Volume 4, issues 1-6, will be published in the first issue of Volume 5. A five year index will be included in the first issue of Volume 6.

Please send any articles, or other information for the journal to the editors at 9323 Waltham Woods Road, Baltimore, Maryland 21234.

RUSS & JANE SEARS

George Washington Easter was born in Baltimore on February 22, 1864 and raised in South Baltimore. He went to Philadelphia in 1887 to marry Caroline Stakeley. They stayed in Philadelphia for a short time and had the first of 15 children the same year.

By 1890 the Easter family had returned to Baltimore and owned a saloon at 1401 Patapsco Avenue. In 1900 George Easter had a saloon at 407 W. Lexington St. The family moved to Fullerton in 1905 and operated a saloon there. By 1911 Easter established Easter's Park on Belair Road near Poplar, the present site of the Overlea Diner and surrounding properties. Mr. Easter died on Christmas Eve 1925 at which time, it is surmised, that the park ceased operating.

The Easter family house was located on the Baltimore City-Baltimore County line in Overlea. Since the line ran through the house, some of the children went to city schools while others attended County schools, based on the location of their bedrooms. If a child had problems with the local school, they were assigned a room in the other jurisdiction and therefore changed schools.

Probably the most famous of the Easter children was Andrew Johnson Easter who dressed up as Uncle Sam and was a Presidential Candidate in 1960 running on a platform of children and parks.

The Baltimore Coin Club 50th Anniversary Medal 1935 - 1985

The Baltimore Coin Club was organized thru the efforts of George W. Williams, Charles E. McCormick, and Frank G. Duffield in March 1935 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Its members over the years have included such nationally prominent numismatists as Oscar H. Dodson, Frank G. Duffield, Louis Eliasberg, John Zug, and Melvin Fuld.

In celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the Baltimore Coin Club in 1985, the club has issued a commemorative medal. The medals were struck in gold (6 pieces), silver (250 pieces of 1 ounce .999 fine), and bronze (1000). Three piece sets, one of each metal, were sold by subscription.

The club is offering a set of two medals, a serially numbered silver proof and a bronze, in custom holder for a price of $37.50 postpaid. Single bronze medals may be purchased for $3.00 postpaid. Maryland residents must add 5% sales tax($1.88 for the $37.50 set and $.15 for the bronze). Anyone wishing to order the medals should send their order to:

THOMAS KENSETT & CO.
122 W. Falls Avenue
Baltimore, Md.

In 1812, Thomas Kensett and Ezra Daggett, father and maternal grandfather of Thomas Kensett, established one of the earliest commercial canning enterprises in New Haven, Connecticut. A method of preserving food by hermatically sealing it in a tin can was developed in 1815 by Thomas Kensett. This was a radical change from the common practice of using expensive and easily broken wide mouth glass jars. In fact, the change was so radical that the U.S. Patent Office considered it a joke and did not issue a patent until 1825. Daggett and Kensett moved to New York in 1820. The firm was abandoned by 1828, a year before the death of Kensett.

Following the death of his father, Thomas Kensett at the age of 20 started a retail dry goods store in New York in 1834. By 1848, he took up the occupation of his father and grandfather. To be nearer the source of the oysters, Kensett moved to Baltimore in 1849 and set up a small cannery at the foot of Federal Hill. Kensett educated other dealers in the secret method invented by his father and quickly capitalized on manufacturing a general line of tin ware and containers.

By 1850, Kensett was processing large quantities of corn, peas, and tomatoes. At that time tomatoes were held as suspicious since they belonged to the deadly night-shade family, and were referred to as "love apples".

In 1852, he erected a large building at 122 (now 600) West Falls Avenue. Between 1863 and 1877 an additional building was located at the northeast corner of Central Avenue and Bank Street. Business was good for the company and in 1860 Thomas Kensett & Co. bought the trademark of Abiathar Field for $50,000 in gold.

Following the death of Thomas Kensett on August 6, 1877, the business was continued by his two sons and a nephew. In later years, the company was purchased by the Lord Mott Company which continued to export oysters under the Kensett name. The company appeared in Baltimore City directories thru 1958.

Thomas Kensett has been called one of the successful early pioneers in the packing industry.

HAMPSTEAD DAY MEDAL -1983

The latest in the series was issued in May, 1983. Much of the following information on the series is borrowed from an article written by Stephan R. Taylor for the International Numismatic Fellowship of Rotarians. Each year since 1974 the Hampstead Rotary Club has sponsored "Hampstead Day" on the fourth Saturday in May and has issued a medal to mark the occasion. Each of the medals have been produced in 40mm goldene brass. The 1974 and 1975 medals have reeded edges; all others are plain edged. All except the 1976 medal share a common reverse (See illustrations) of the logo of Rotary International. Quantities produced: 1974- 500; 1975- 2,500; each year since- 200. As of May 31, only 2 complete sets of the 10 medals remained for sale at the cost of $35.00 plus $2.50 postage per set. Individual medals are available at $2.50 plus $.50 postage each. The two remaining 1976 medals were available only with the complete sets. Address your orders to
